- h. A draft of a resolution by the party organization of an unidentified unit stating that, after discussing a report by the commanding officer, Gds Lieutenant Colonel Nemchinov, (fnu), on "The Leading Role of the Communists in Accordance with Order No 0200 by the War Minister", the party assembly of the unit declared that the party organization had done well with regard to the fulfillment of Order No 0250 by the War Ministry and the directives by the Main Political Administration, and that the military proficiency and the political judgement of the entire personnel of the unit had been improved. The program of combat training and political indoctrination in 1950 had been largely accomplished. Ratings given to the battalion after the principal inspection had been "satisfactory" with regard to general training, and "good" with regard to training in firing and political indoctrination. In addition, the resolution criticized several Communists, including some commanding officers, and stated that the practice alerts had revealed considerable deficiencies, for example, in the telephone company; in the headquarters company whose exchange and telegraph did not function at night; and in the radio company, whose personnel did not know Morse code perfectly. *
